NOTE

In the following receipts most of the quantities are given by glasses. The size of the glasses usually varies a trifle in each locality, but the usual amount of liquid contained in them is approximately as follows:

Lemonade-glass, twelve ounces.

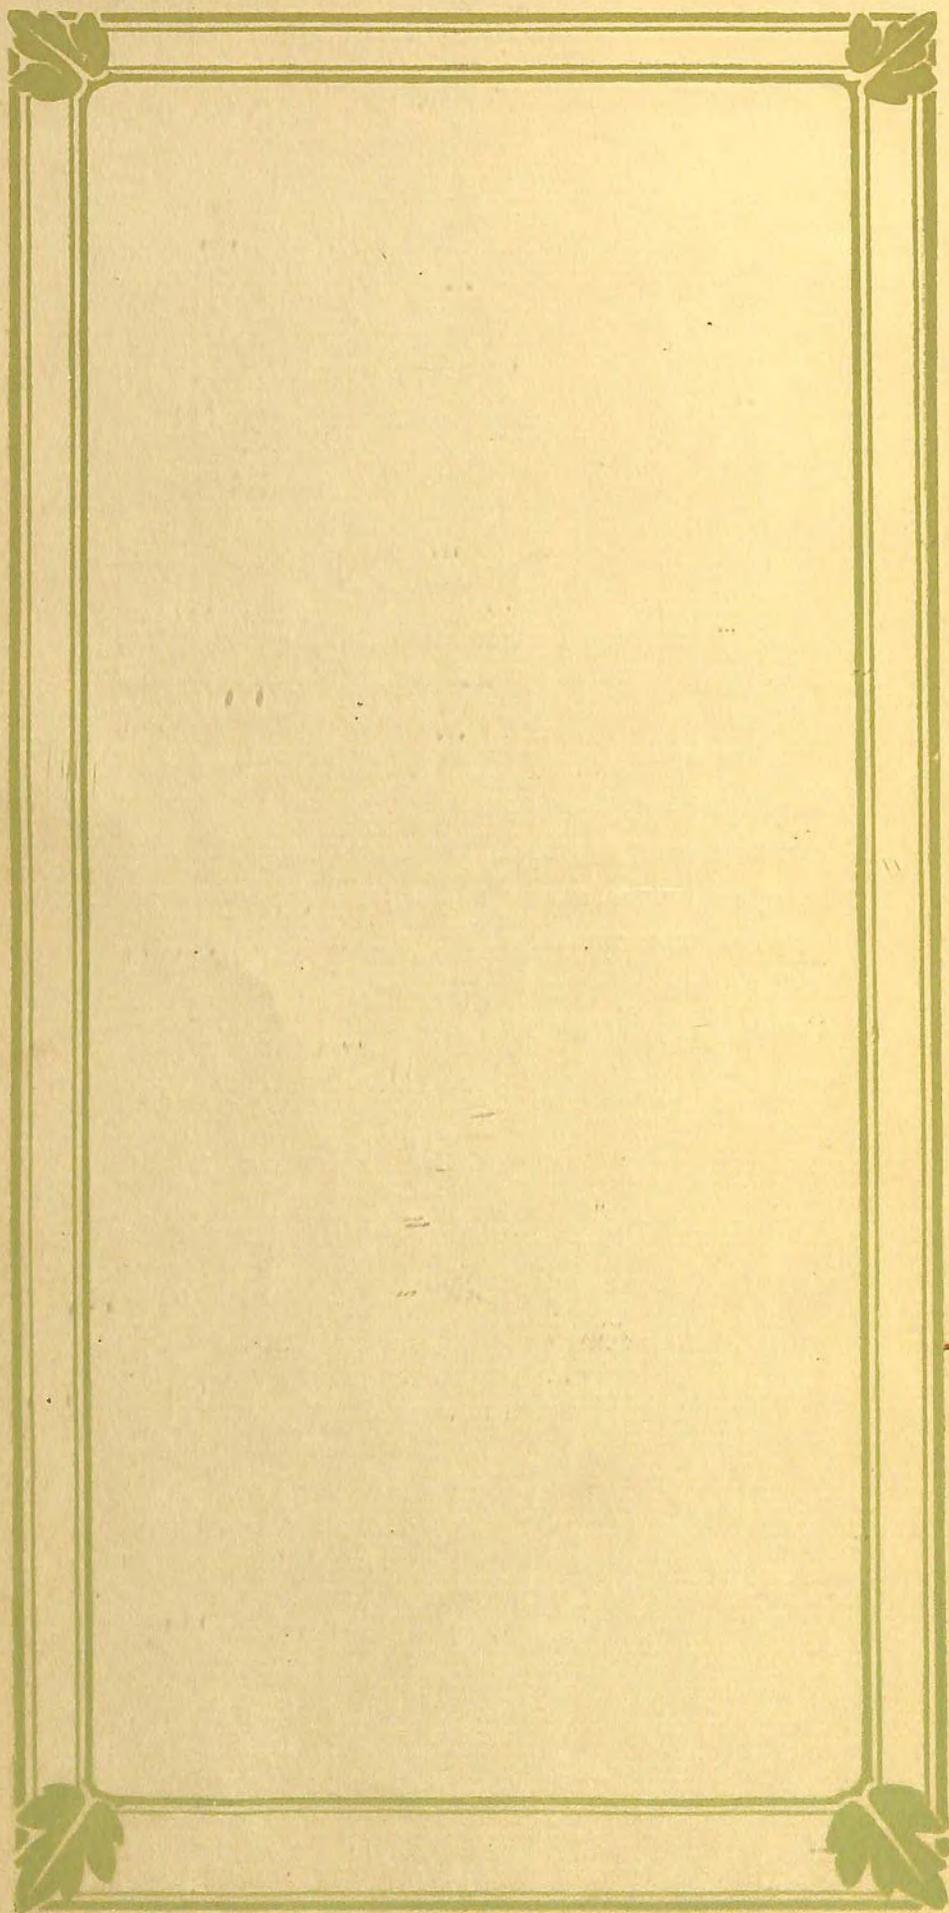

High-ball glass, six ounces.

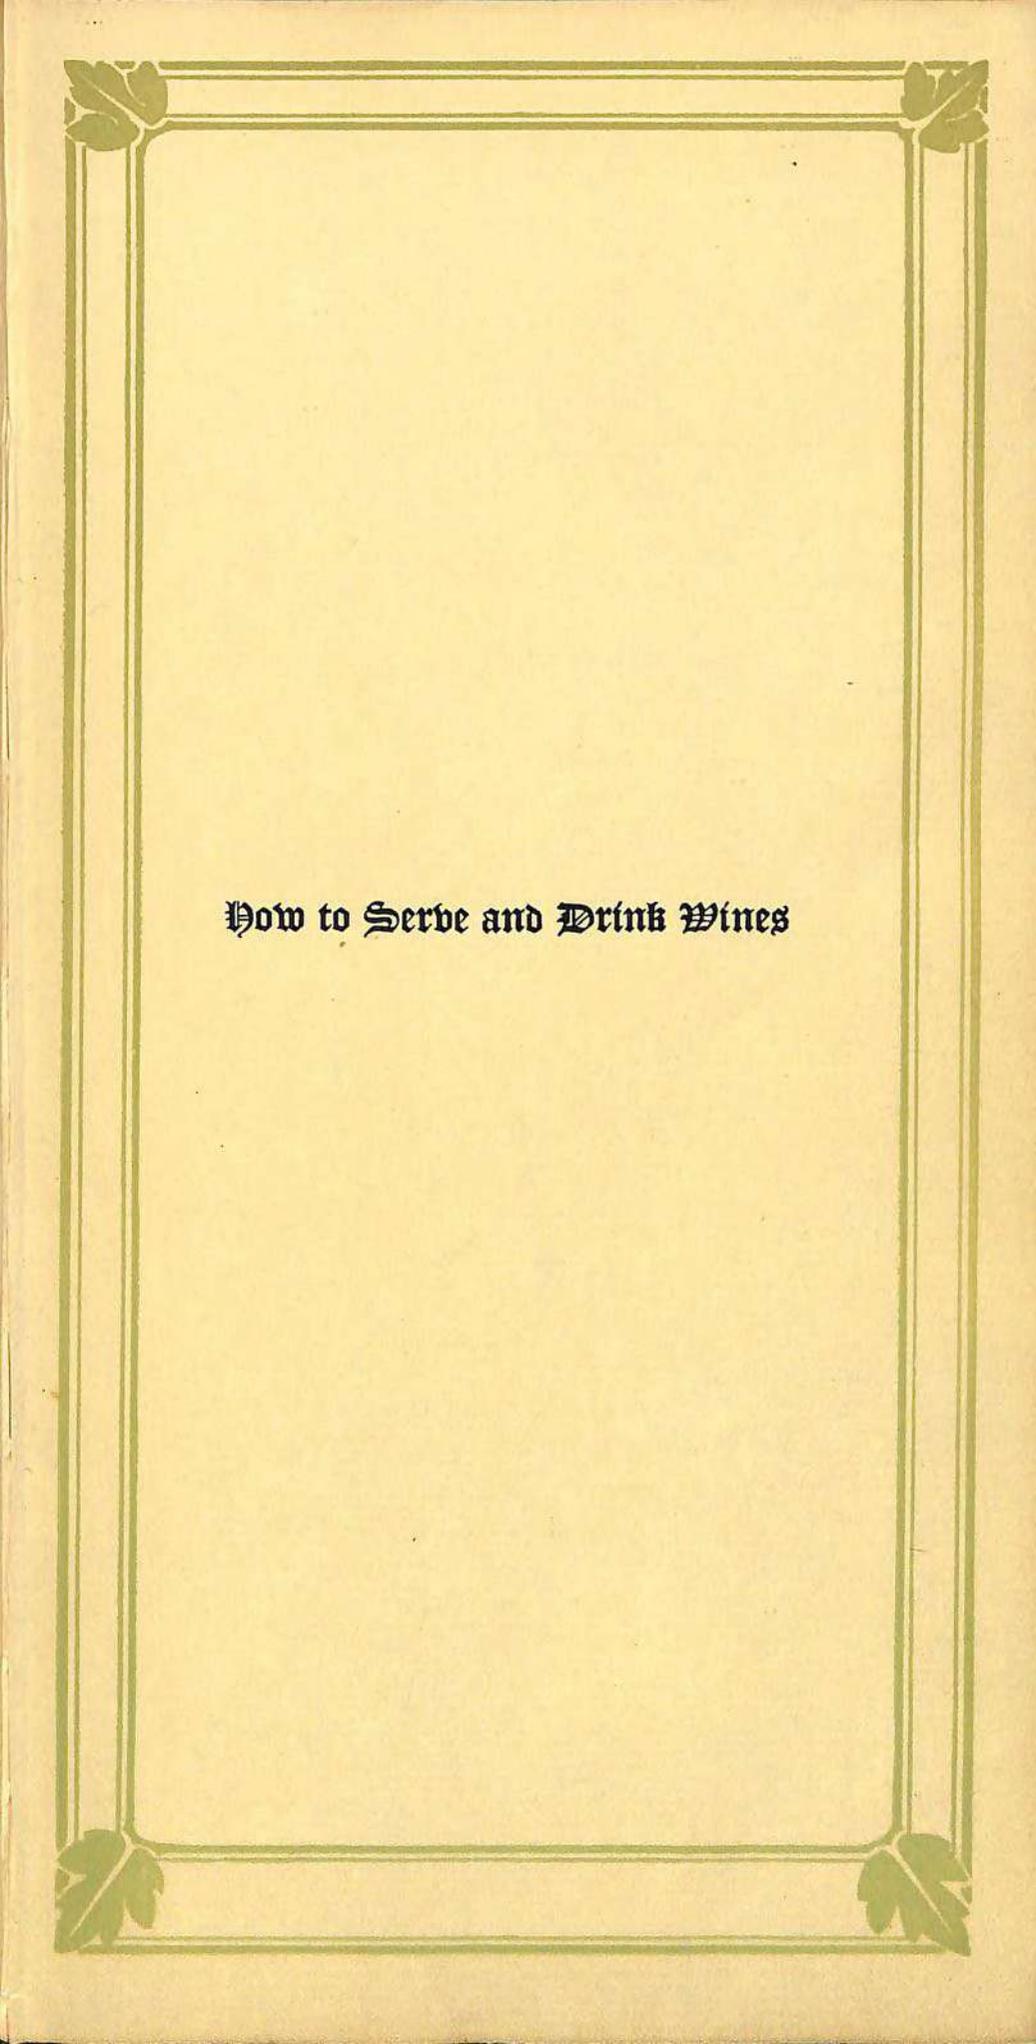

Star-glass or star champagne-glass, four and a half ounces.

Bar-glass, three ounces.

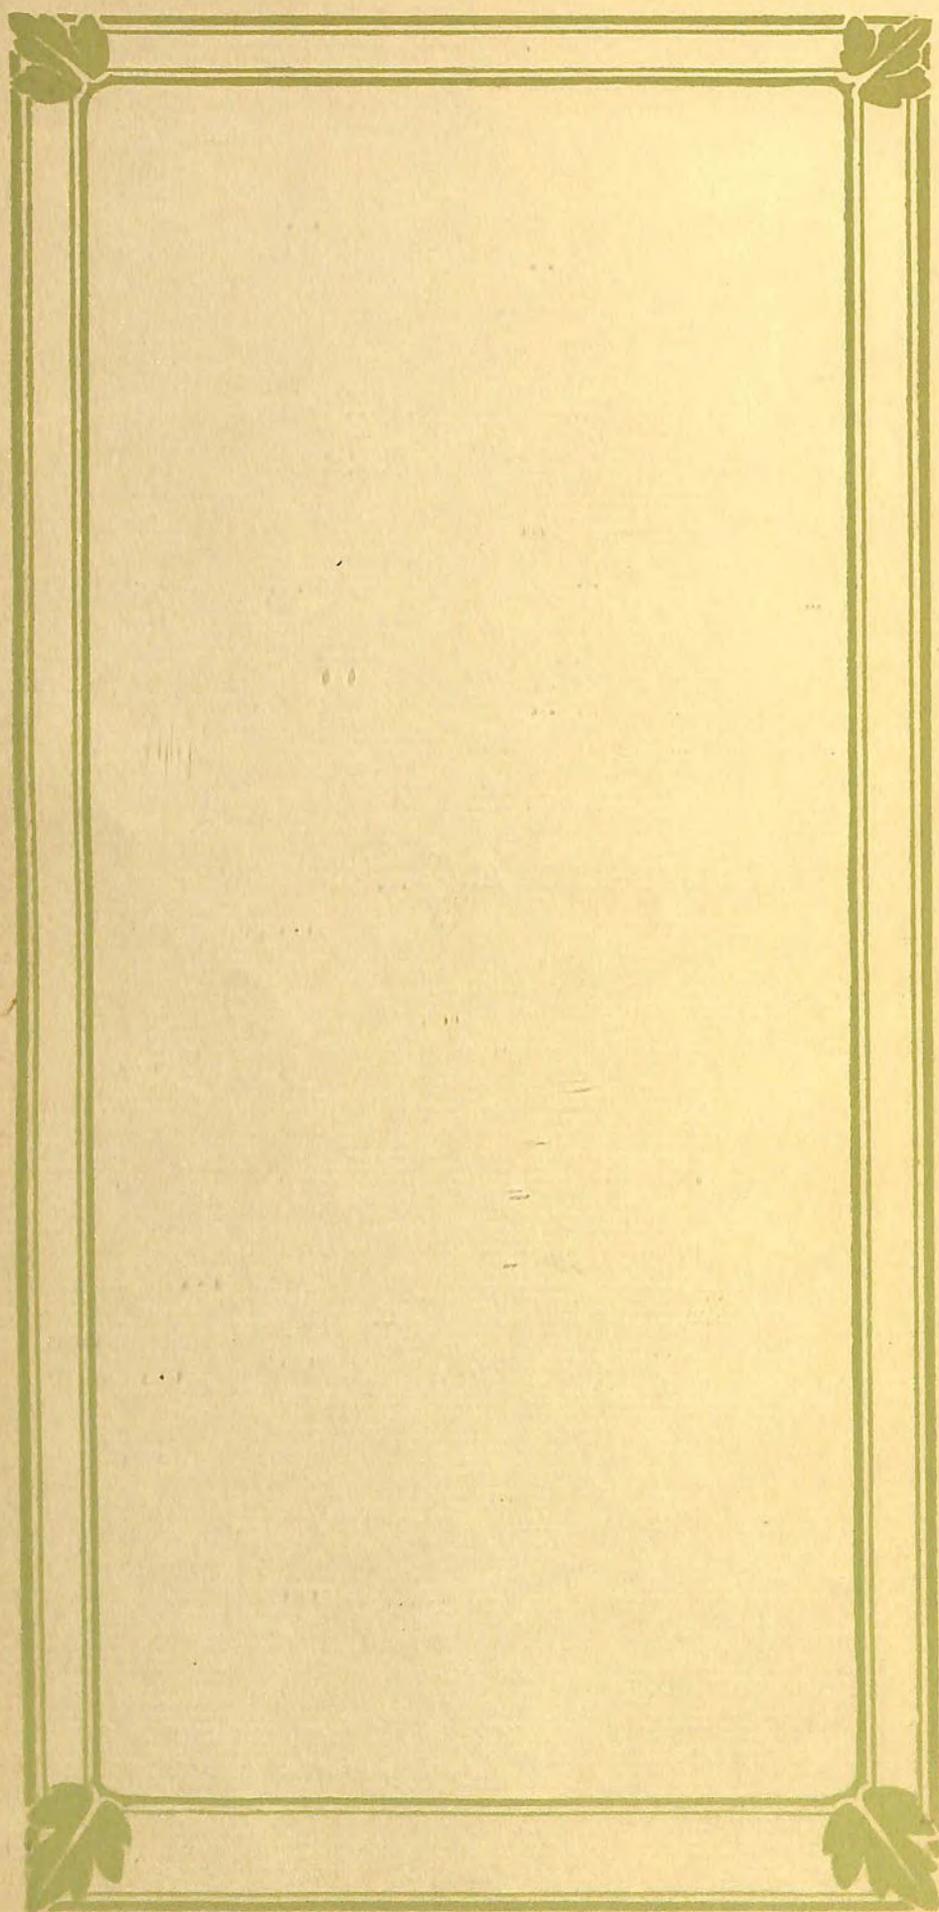

Cocktail-glass, two and one-half ounces.

Liqueur-glass, or "pony," one ounce.

How to Serve and Drink Wines

LOUIS' MIXED DRINKS

HOW TO SERVE AND DRINK WINES

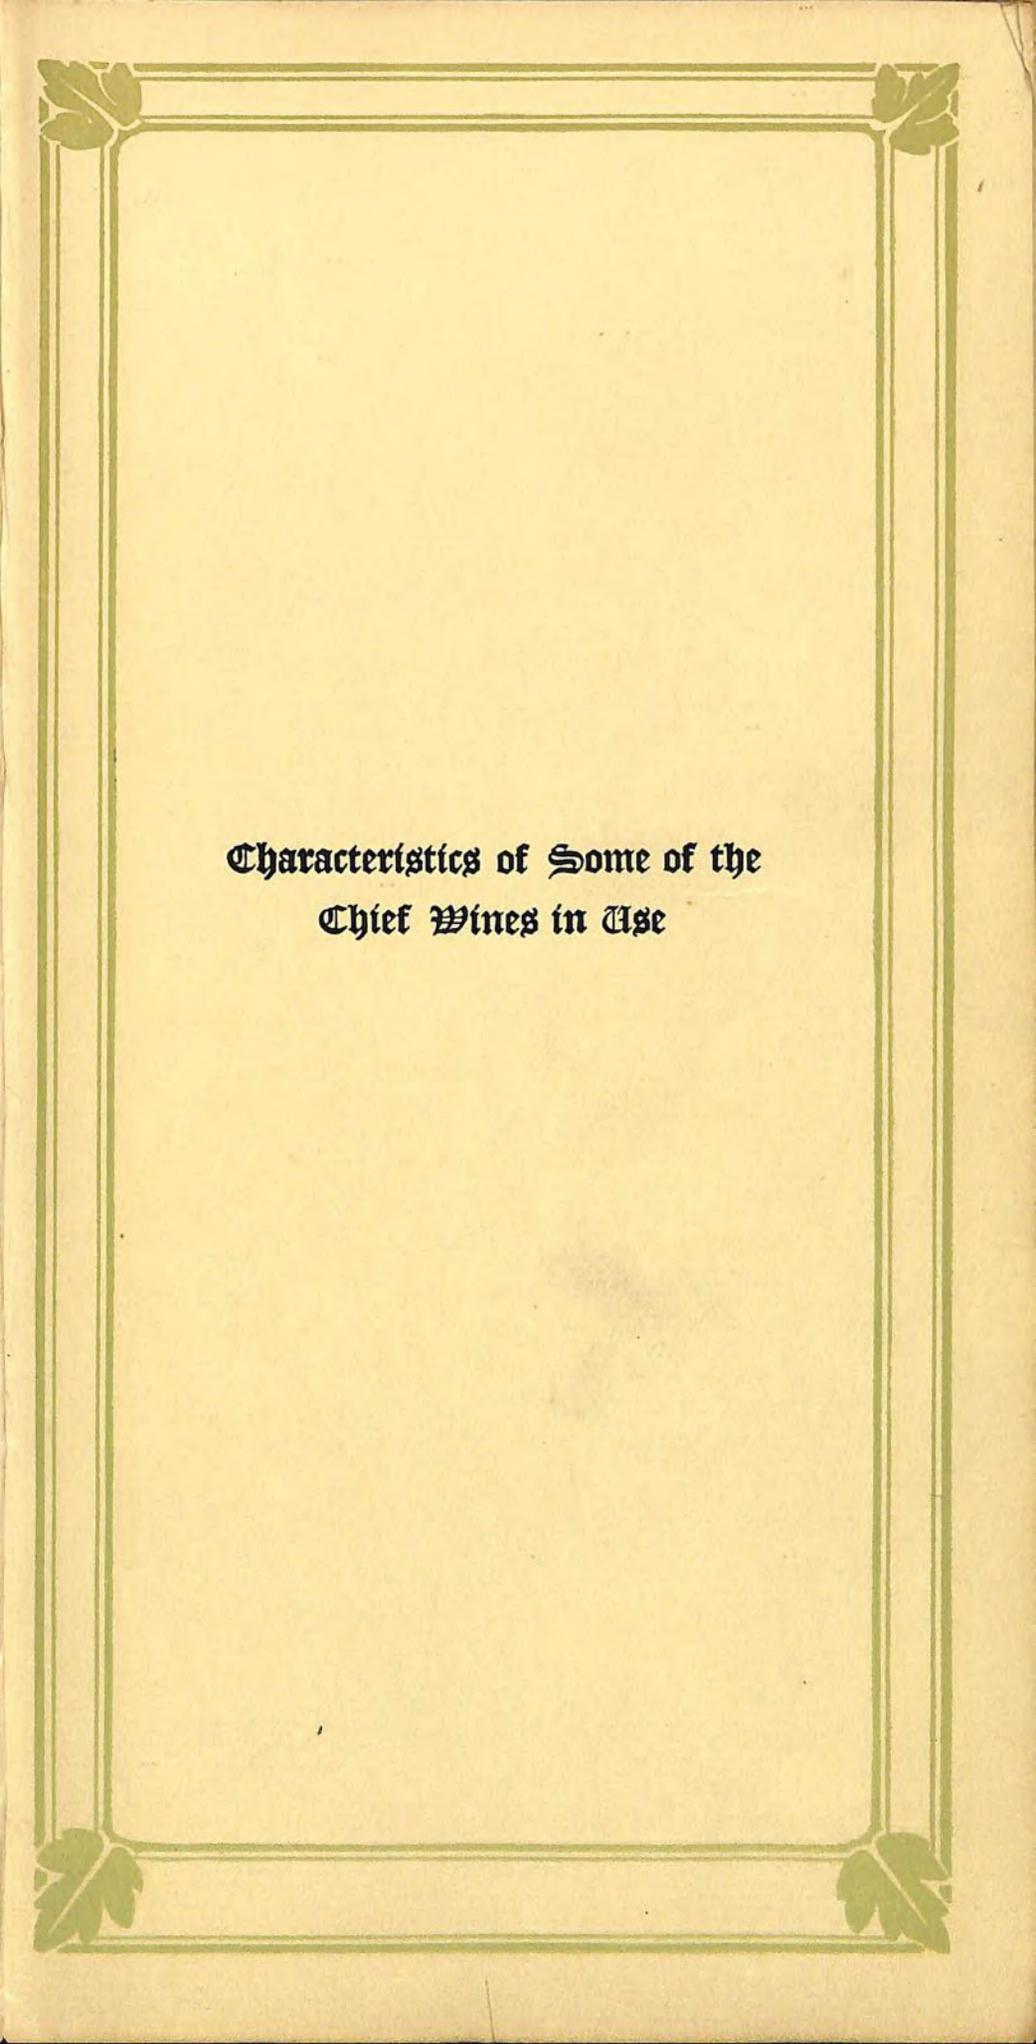

Having had many opportunities to serve and taste wines of all sorts and kinds for dinner parties and in that way learning by experience the most pleasant mode and successful manner of procedure, I think it well to give a few hints on the subject. With canapes, clams, oysters, and relishes of all kinds, serve Vermouth, Sherry, Madeira, or Marsala. With soups and fish, serve white wines, such as Rhine wine, Sauterne, or light white Burgundies. With relèves or entrées serve clarets, such as red Bordeaux, red Hungarian wines, red Swiss, or Italian wines. Such wines do not clog the appetite as stronger ones would do, but on the contrary they give you new vigour. Burgundy can be served any time after these courses. With roasts, serve champagne or any kind of sparkling wines. With coffee serve Kirsch, brandy, or fine champagne; after coffee serve liqueurs.

Never drink any hard liquors, such as whiskey, gin, or cocktails, or any kind of mixed drinks, with clams or oysters; it is liable to upset you for the rest of the evening.

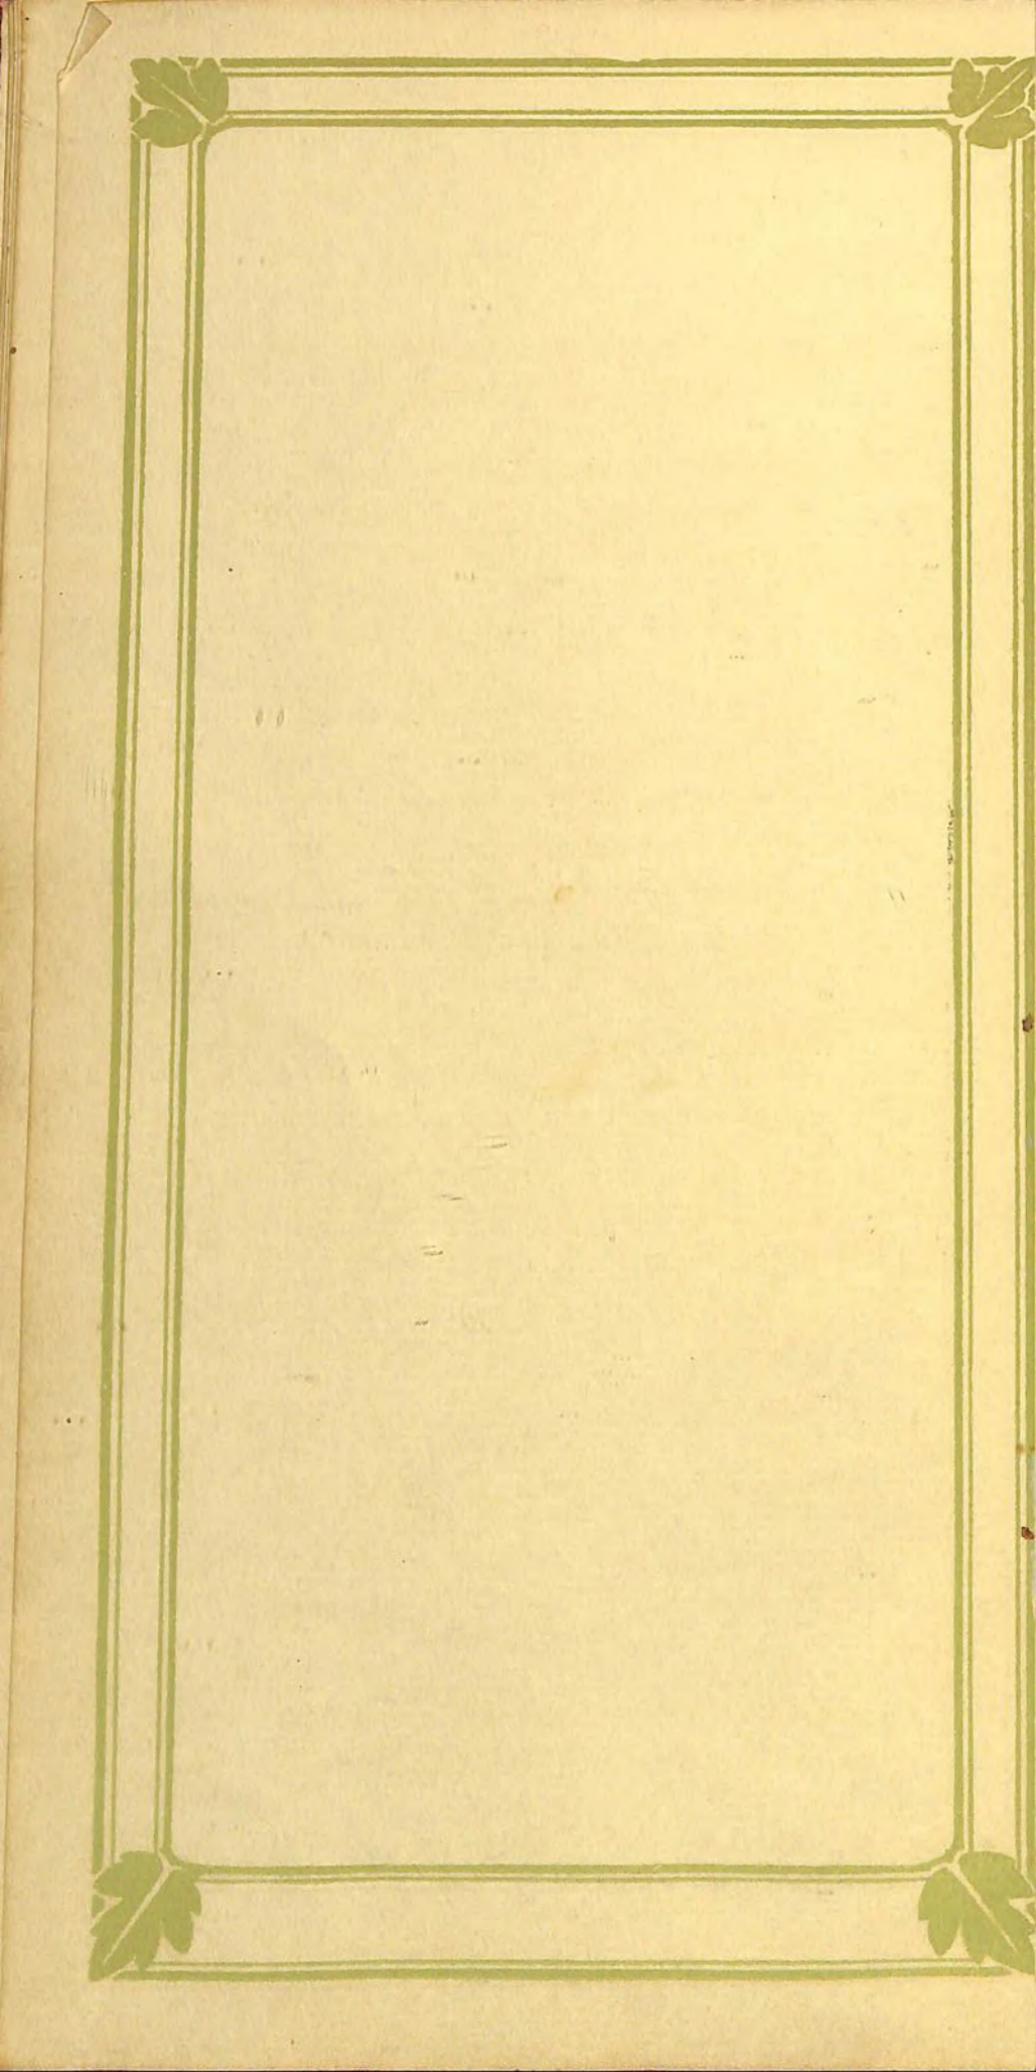

The following menu will give you a good idea on what wines to use with a dinner:

Characteristics of Some of the Chief Wines in Use

CHARACTERISTICS OF SOME OF THE CHIEF WINES IN USE

AUSTRIAN. These wines are strong, generous, full-flavoured, and pure, with good bouquet. Those of the Burgundy type are especially excellent.

BURGUNDY. This is one of the finest wines, possessing great richness of flavour and exquisite perfume, together with the more delicate qualities essential to a "vin tout excellent," the result of an equable climate, favourable soil, and skilful management. The principal varieties are:

Chablis, a white Burgundy, with a pale amber colour, very delicate and pellucid, dry in quality and of an agreeable aroma.

Chambertin, a sound, firm, delicate - flavoured wine, with seductive aroma, and a taste that has been described as slightly suggestive of raspberry.

Clos de Vougeot, somewhat similar in character to Chambertin, and an exquisite wine, which has been called the king of Burgundy.

Romanee, a rare and very costly wine, of rich and ruby colour, soft-flavoured, with a delicate bouquet.

Other varieties are: Beaujolais, Beaune, Blaguy, Chalonaise, Corton, Macconais, Meurseult, Nuit, Pommard, Richebourg, and Volnay St. Georges.

CALIFORNIA, a generous, fine-flavoured wine of excellent bouquet. The lighter kinds have considerable delicacy and refinement.

CANARY, an excellent and luscious white wine, sweet, yet with an acid principle, that develops with age.

LOUIS' MIXED DRINKS

CAPE. The chief wines produced at the Cape are from the Constantia and Muscatel grapes. They are of excellent and improving quality, possessing high vinous properties, rich in flavour and aroma.

CHAMPAGNE. The products of the fruitful province from which this wine takes its name are almost endless in variety and quality. The skill and labour and expense which have been lavished by the great makers upon the manufacture of their wines, fully justify the high prices, which their choicest vat-fuls command. The best judges of champagne invariably prefer the dryer wines, in which the exquisite natural bouquet and delicate vinous flavour of the wines are unspoiled by overliqueuring or with high-proof brandy.

CLARET. As much valued for its wholesome restorative qualities as for those which appeal to connoisseurs.

Chateau Grille. A dessert wine very popular in this country.

Chateau Lafitte. Renowned alike for its luminous colour and exquisite softness and delicacy of flavour.

Chateau la Rose. Of somewhat greater alcoholic strength, yet of pronounced fine flavour, and bouquet like the combined odour of the pith of a fruit stone and almonds.

Chateau Margaux possesses a rich, yet refined, delicacy of flavour and exquisite bouquet that is unsurpassed.

The other principal varieties are: Chateau Beychevelle, Chateau Danzac, Chateau Haut Brion, Chateau Leoville, Chateau Mouton Rothschild, Chateau Pareil, Chateau Pontet Canet, Chateau Smith Haut Lafitte, Floirac, Médoc, St. Emilion, St. Estephe, and St. Julien.

LOUIS' MIXED DRINKS

CYPRUS. This new wine is of a bright amber hue, which becomes a dull brown with age. The bitter taste observable in the young wine develops into a smooth, nutty flavour when aged. It possesses balsamic properties of value.

GREEK. This wine somewhat resembles Burgundy in taste and character, but with rather more body and roundness of flavour. When young it possesses a slight acidulous taste, which disappears with age.

HOCK and other German wines.

Hochheimer, a light, pleasing, wholesome, delicate-flavoured wine, which improves with age, and for some time increases in strength.

Other varieties are: Brauneberger, Deidesheimer, Dreimanner, Grafenberg, Johannisberger, Josephhofen, Kesselling, Konigsbach, Liebfraumilch, Marcobrunnen, Rosenberg, Rothenberg, Rudesheimer, Niersteiner, Travern, Turkheimer, Steinwein.

HUNGARIAN. These wines are sound, durable, and abundant, the produce of a prolific soil, rich in flavour, aroma, and delicacy.

ITALIAN. Italian wines are mostly red, and although some of them are excellent, they are chiefly prepared for home consumption, most of the wines being bottled in the old Roman style, in large glass flasks, with oil on the top. The kind best known in America is Chianti.

MADEIRA. A fragrant and delicious wine, golden in colour, which gains great mellowness and soft fullness of flavour with age, yet not without a delicate pungency.

Malaga. A sweet wine, very powerful, and in high repute. A peculiar flavour is given to it by the addition of a small quantity of wine slightly burned.

Malmsey. This is the grape from which much of the finest Madeira is grown. It is cultivated in many places, but it is supposed originally to have come from Napoli di Malvaize, a small Greek island.

Marsala. A golden wine, somewhat resembling Madeira in character. It is agreeable in flavour and keeps well.

NEUCHATEL. A Swiss wine, very light flavoured and a trifle sparkling, slightly sour, and with a beautiful amber colour.

PORT WINE is a wine of great natural strength, pure flavour, and bouquet. The best comes chiefly from the Alto Douro district and improves greatly with maturity.

Tarragona is a Spanish port, very wholesome and pleasing in flavour, of refinement, but not in a high degree. It is largely recommended by the medical faculty as an inexpensive substitute for high-class port. The monks who had to leave France for refusing to pay taxes for their Chartreuse and are now in Spain, took the name of Tarragona for Chartreuse.

SAUTERNE. A white Bordeaux, a fairly strong, luscious wine, of delicate vinous flavour.

Chateau Yquem, a white Bordeaux, possesses resplendent colour resembling liquid gold, exquisite bouquet, and a delicious flavour remarkable for its rich, velvety softness.

Different varieties are: Barsac, Chateau Filhot, Chateau Latour Blanche, Chateau Suduiraut, Haut Sauterne, Vin de Graves.

LOUIS' MIXED DRINKS

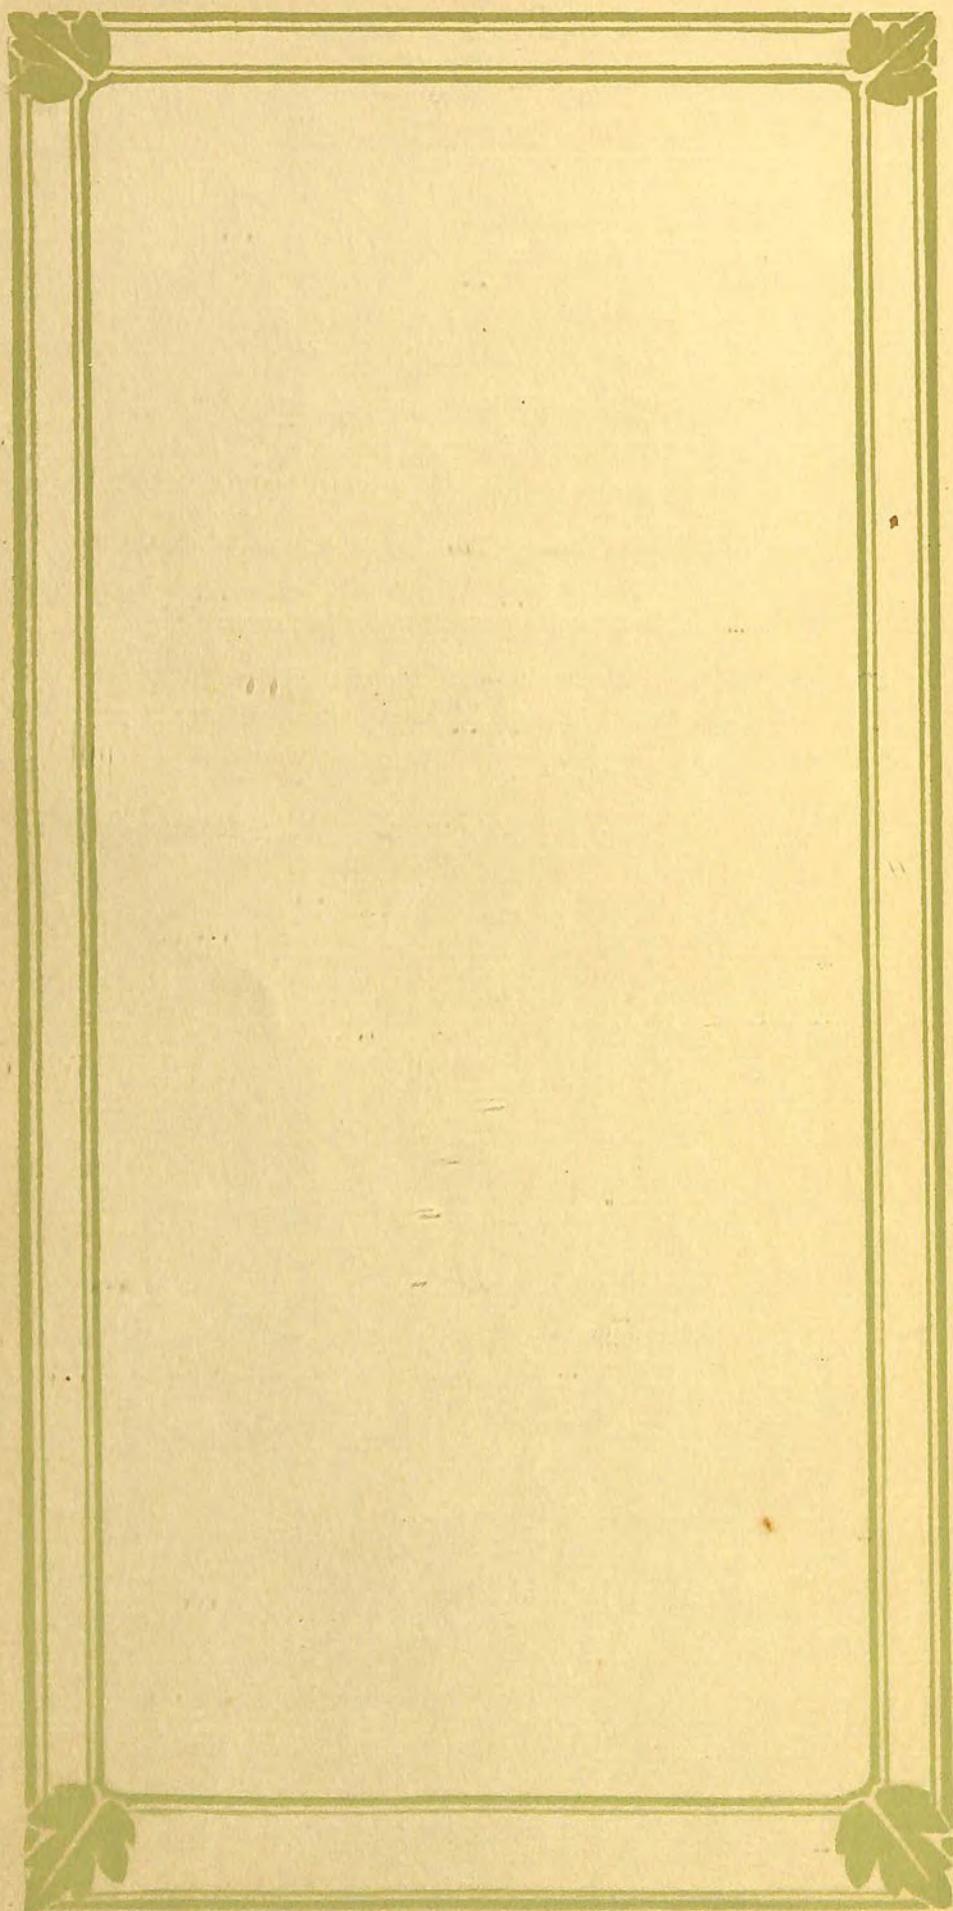

SHERRY. The natural characteristics of sherry are strength, aroma, and durability.

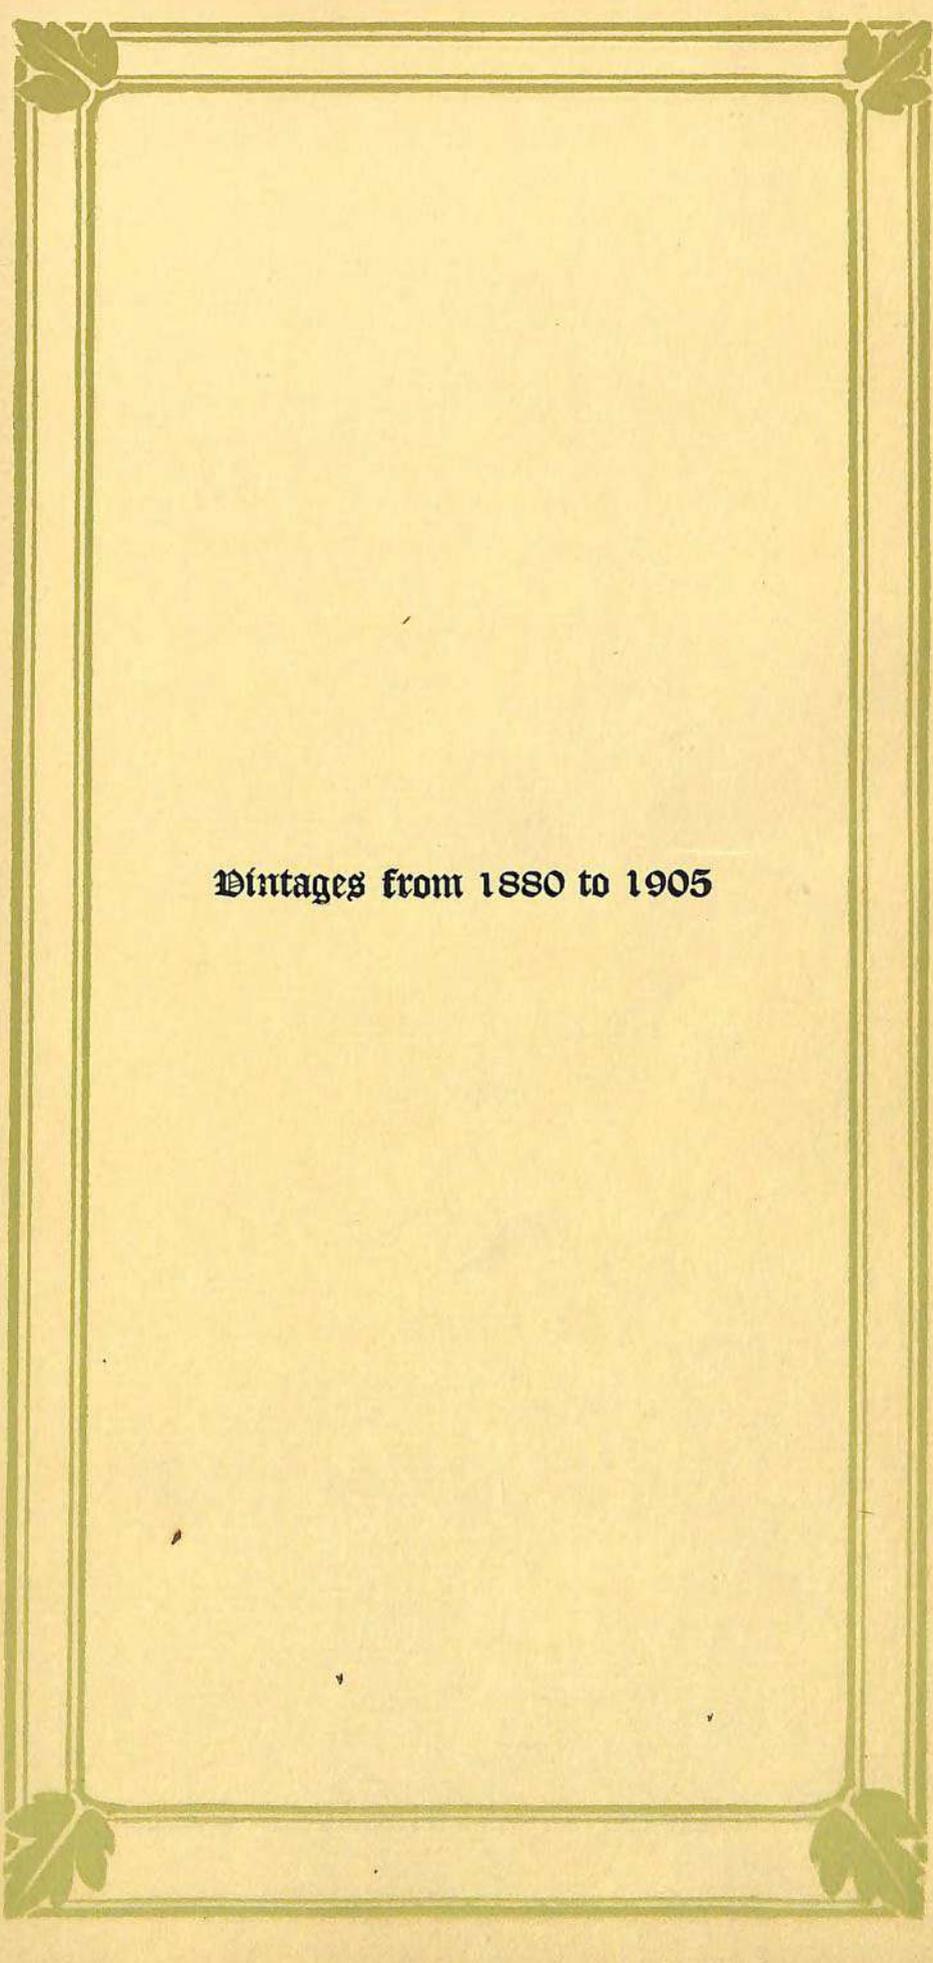

Amontillado is a pale, dry wine, remarkable for its delicacy, limpidity, and high flavour.

Manzanilla is of pale straw colour, light, remarkably dry, slightly bitter and aromatic. It is a very wholesome wine, especially when truly matured.

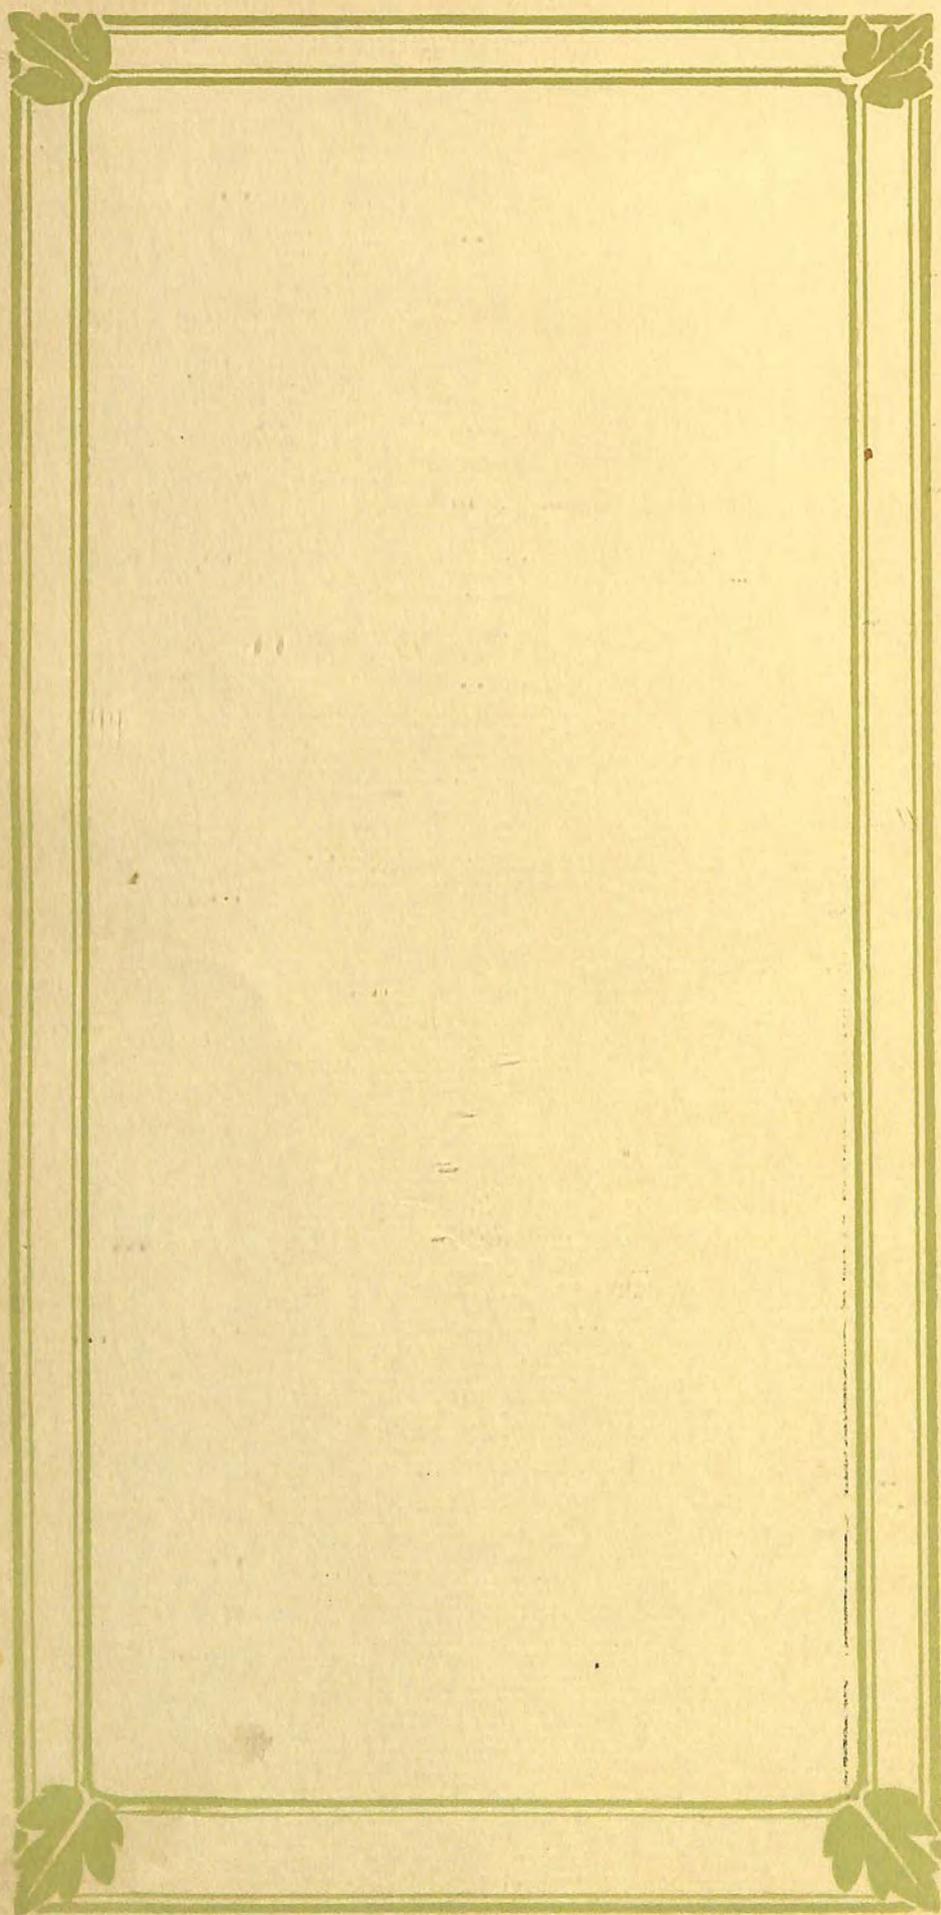

Montilla is among the finest growth of Spain, highly prized for its body and general excellence, but varying considerably in flavour.

Olorosa is of a deeper colour than Amontillado, also fuller, richer, and more mellow, with a nutty flavour, and especially fragrant bouquet.

Vintages from 1880 to 1905

THE VINTAGES FROM 1880 to 1905

Under the date of June 22, 1906, it is reported from France that the vines are doing well, the flowers are plentiful, and that the wine growers expect a very good vintage for the year of 1906, if the worms do not get into the flowers.

- 1905 Good useful wines after a year or two.

Cocktails

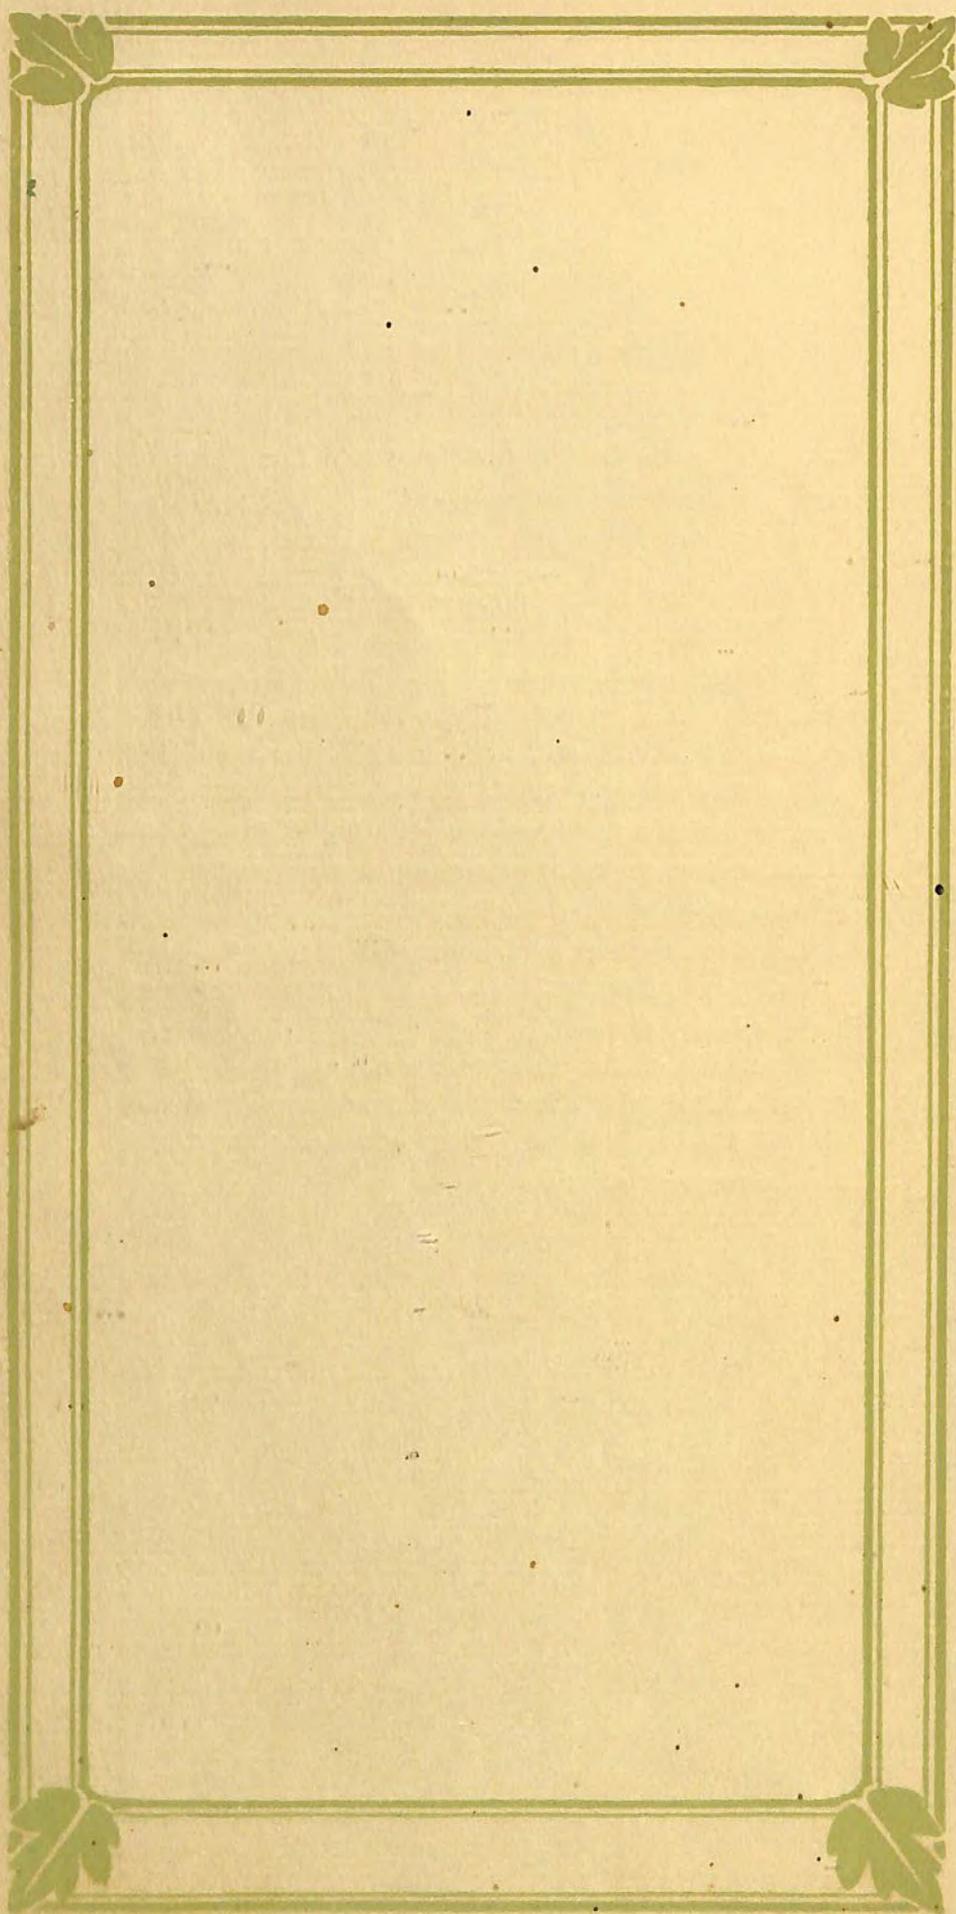

NOTE

A cherry can be added to practically every cocktail, excepting where the cocktail is wanted extra dry. In that case olives can be used, but I do not recommend them unless they are first wiped. The water in which olives come contains a certain amount of acid, for the purpose of preserving, and if it gets into a cocktail will usually give an unpleasant taste to the drink.

If cocktail cherries get flat or spoiled, add to a quart of cherries and their liquid two liqueur-glasses of alcohol and six lumps of sugar.

If cocktail stuffed olives turn black and float, change water in which the olives are and add a teaspoonful of salt to a quart of water. This will bring them back to their natural colour.

High-balls

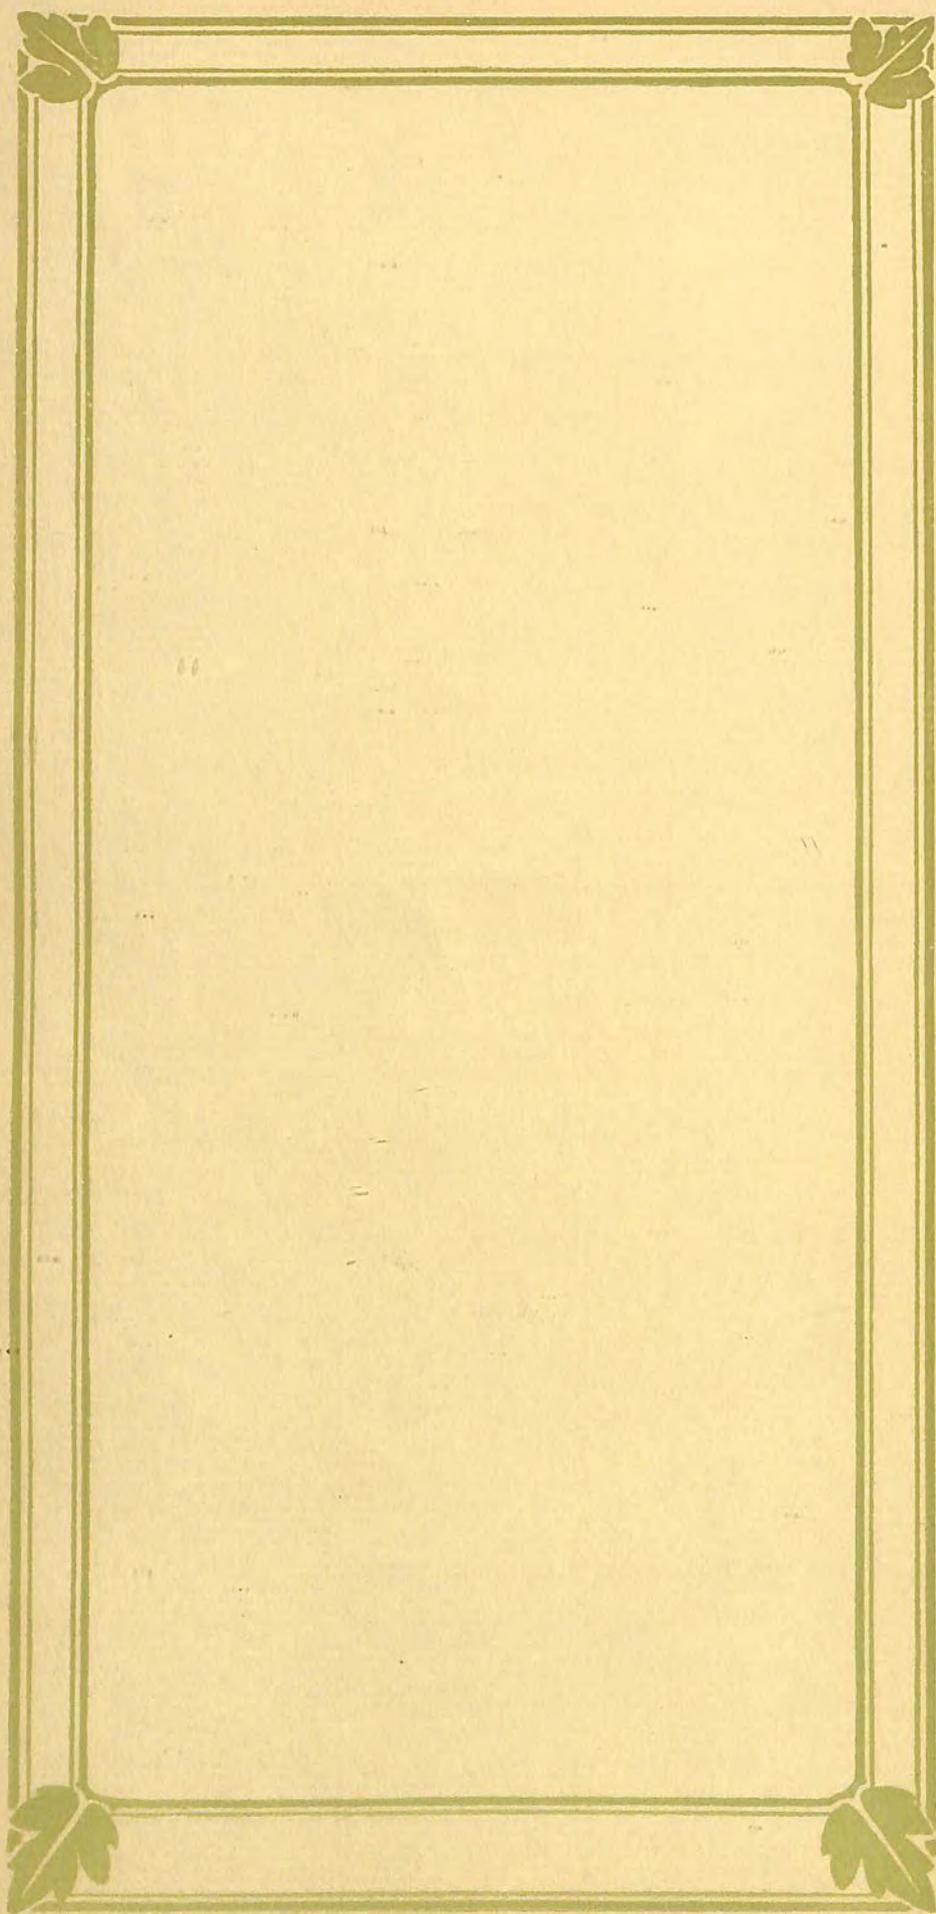

HIGH-BALLS

Place a good-sized piece of ice in a high-ball glass, and add about half a bar-glass of whatever liquor you desire, such as Rye or Scotch whiskey, brandy, green Chartreuse, white or green Creme de Menthe, Absinthe, Amer Picon, Fernet Branca, Kummel, Creme de Cassis, Grenadine, or other high-proof liqueurs, etc., and fill the glass with soda. Ginger ale or sarsaparilla are often used in place of the soda, but should not be used with liqueurs.

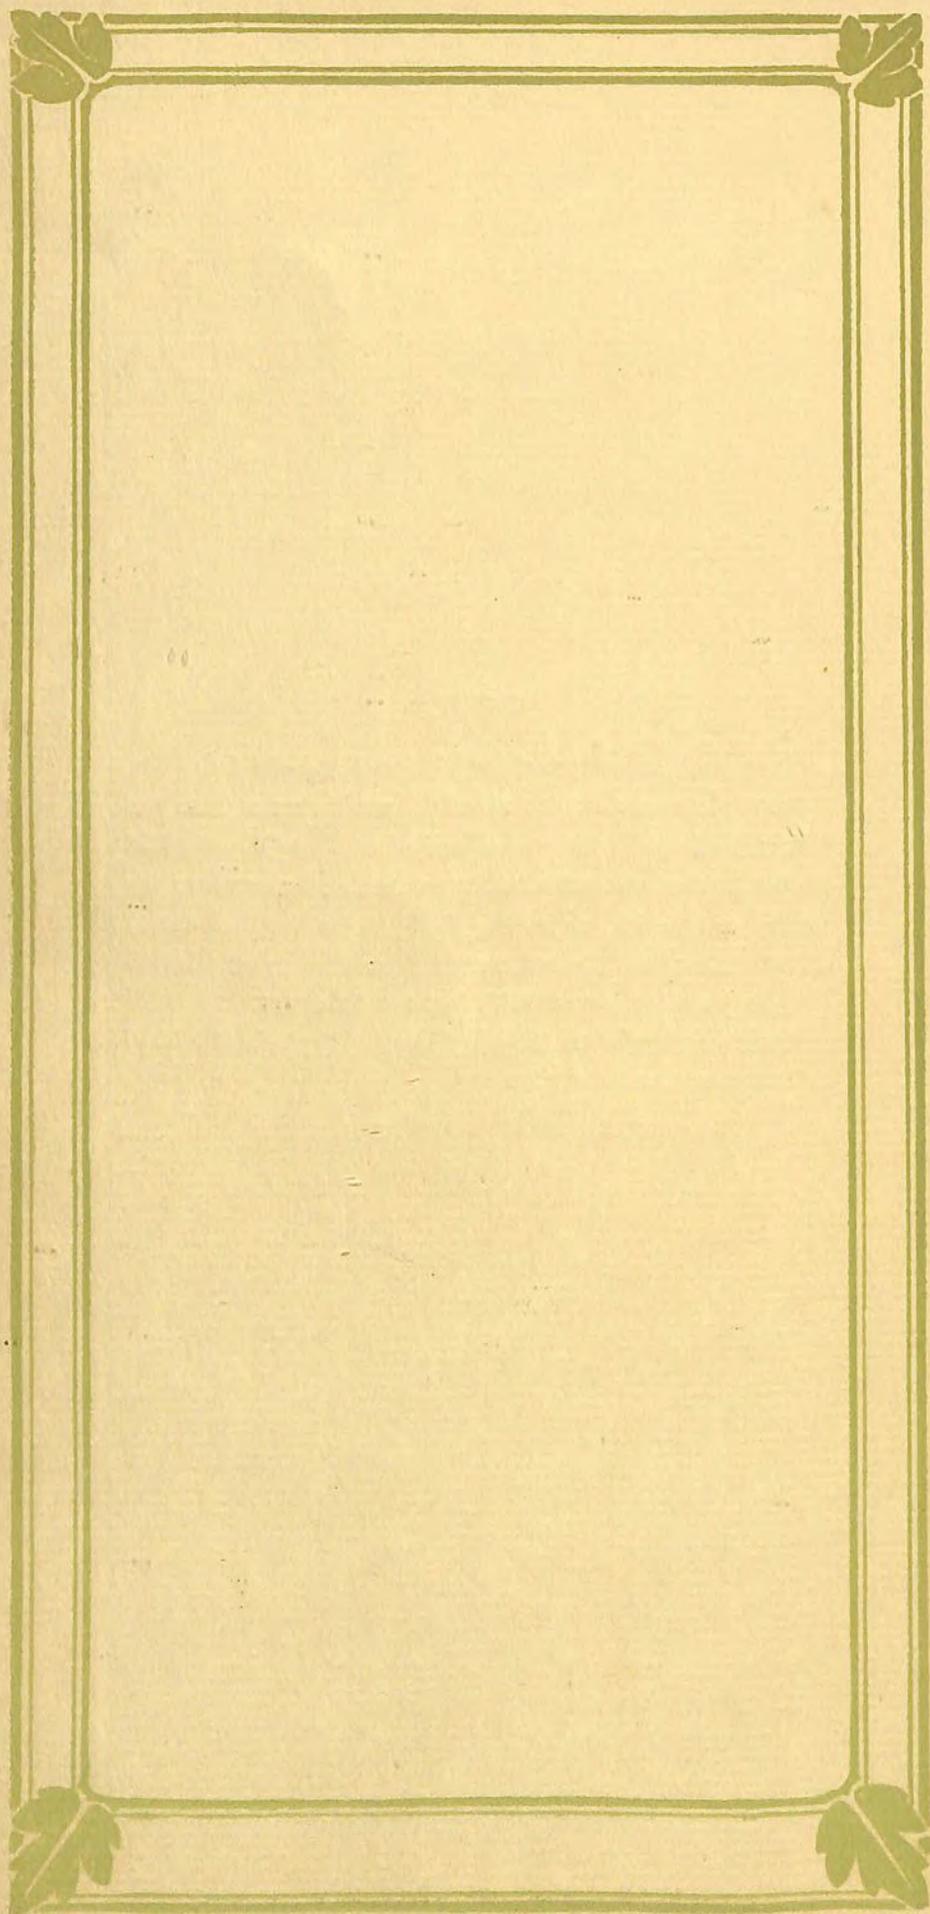

Punches

NOTE

A very effective punch-bowl can be made from ice. Take a piece of clear ice about fifteen inches square and thick. Fill the inner pan of a double boiler about eight inches in diameter with boiling water, and press into the centre of the ice, repeating the process until a cavity about six inches deep is formed. Place the ice on a large, deep tray and ornament with ferns and flowers.

Where a regular punch-bowl is used, place in the bowl one large piece of clear ice.

Sufficient for three people.

LOUIS' MIXED DRINKS

TOM AND JERRY ❧

Take twelve raw eggs,
Two liqueur-glasses of Creme de Cacao,
One bar-glassful of Jamaica rum,
One bar-glassful of Duff Gordon sherry,
One teaspoonful of ground cinnamon,
One-quarter of a teaspoonful of ground cloves,
and
One-quarter of a teaspoonful of ground allspice.

Beat the whites of the eggs to a stiff froth; add the yolks, rum, sherry, Cacao, and spice. Stir up thoroughly and thicken with fine sugar, until the mixture attains the consistency of light batter. Mix in a punch-bowl and keep in a cool place. Sufficient for eighteen to twenty people.

To serve, take one-half a bar-glass of brandy or whiskey, and a dessert-spoon of the above mixture. Put in a mug and fill with boiling water or milk, stir slowly, and grate a little nutmeg on top.

HOT INVALID PUNCH ❧

and add one quart of Duff Gordon sherry.

Put in a punch-bowl and ornament with six poached eggs. Serve in heated consomme-cups. Sufficient for six people.

LIPTON PUNCH, HOT ❧

Take a punch-bowl, put in one-quarter of a pound of loaf sugar, the juice of two lemons, one-half a pint of brandy, and one pint of Jamaica rum. Set fire to it. Take an infusion of green tea, one ounce to a quart, and pour the tea gently into the bowl, and add the peel of two lemons. Must be served flaming, and will be found sufficient for twelve persons.

LOUIS' MIXED DRINKS

TURKHEIM PUNCH, HOT ☞☞

Keep six cloves in a pint of boiling water for five minutes. At the end of that time add the peel of two lemons, one-quarter of a pound of sugar, and a stick of cinnamon four inches long broken into small pieces. Add two quarts of red wine, one-half a wine-glass of Curacao, some sliced fruit, and serve hot in a punch-bowl. Sufficient for twelve people.

HOLY WATER PUNCH, HOT ☞☞

In a punch-bowl put one-quarter of a pound of loaf sugar,
One pint of Kirschwasser,
One pint of brandy, and
One-quarter of a pound of imported dried grapes.

Set fire to this, and serve in punch-glasses while hot. Sufficient for twelve persons.

HOT SCOTCH PUNCH ☞☞

and
One-half a bar-glass of Amer Picon.

Serve in a high-ball glass with ice, and fizz with soda.

ELDERBERRY WINE ☞

Strip the berries from the large stalks and set them in a pan in the oven when the fire is just dying down at night, leave until morning, then squeeze through a cheese-cloth, and to every gallon of juice add six quarts of boiling water, one pound of sugar, one-quarter of an ounce of allspice, one-quarter of an ounce of cloves, and one-quarter of an ounce of ginger-root. Add four gallons of California wine and one-half a yeast-cake. Let it work for nine days and then when wholly settled bottle.

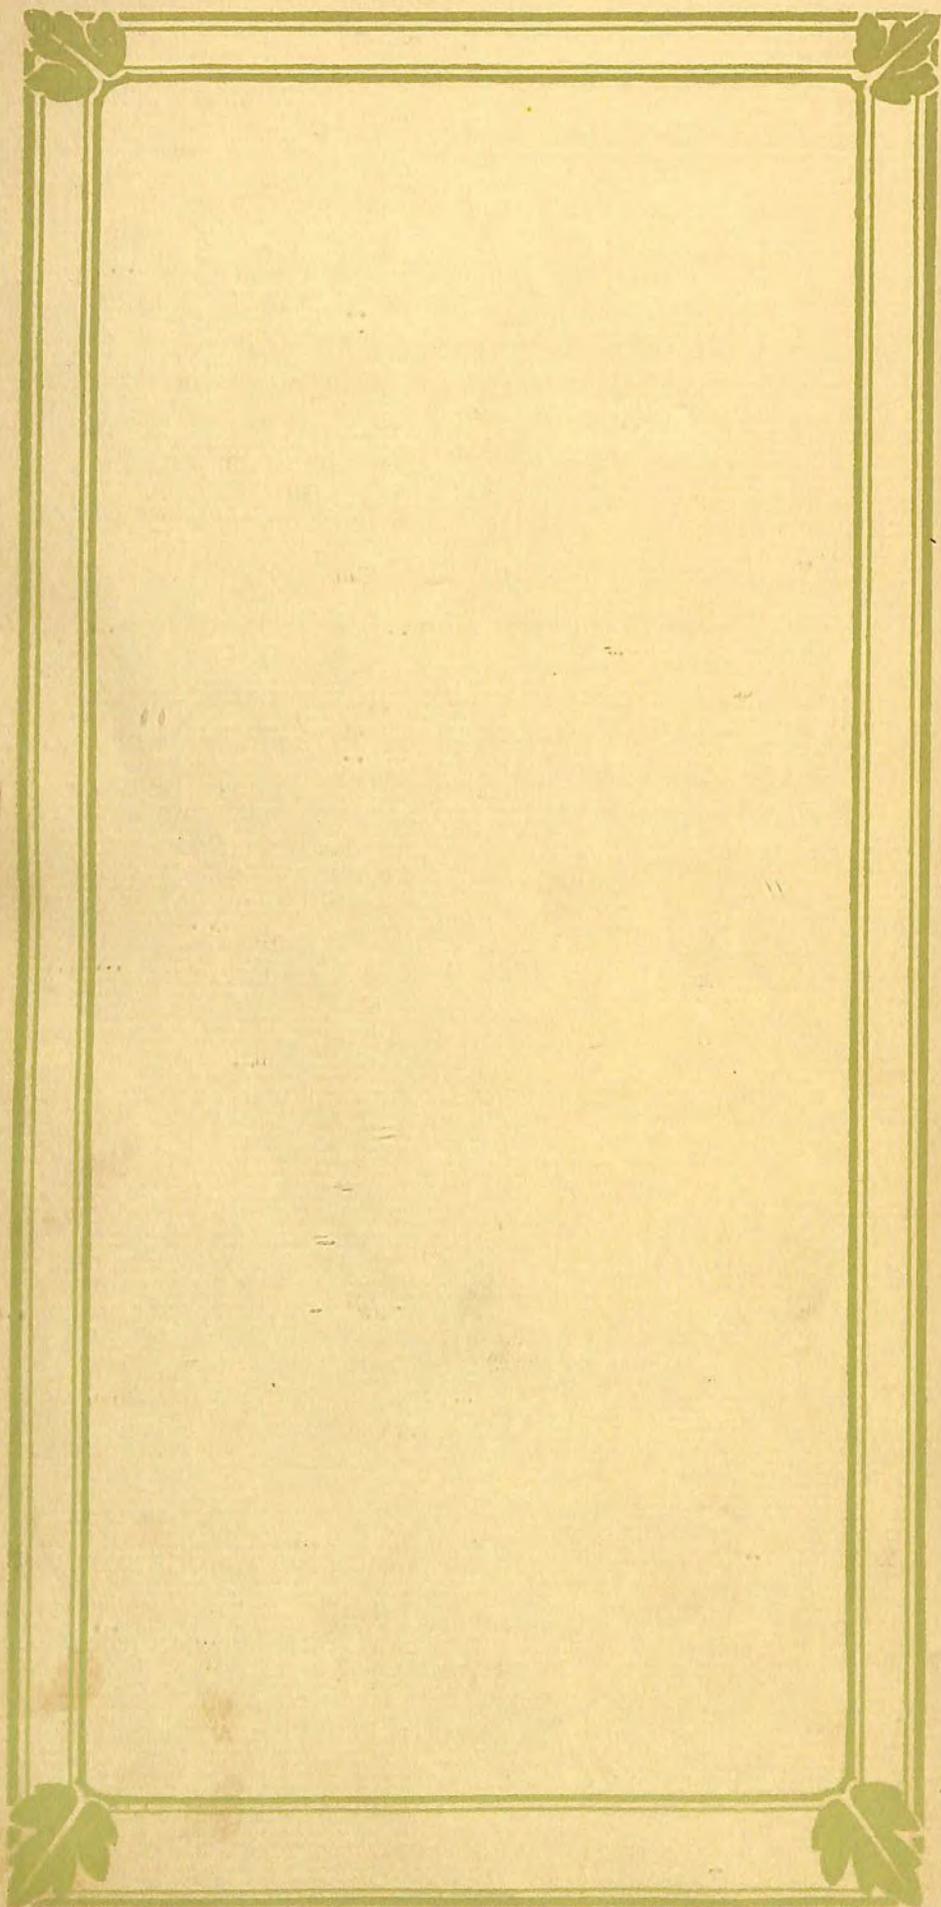

LOUIS' MIXED DRINKS

CHERRY BOUNCE

Mash the cherries well and strain through a cheese-cloth. To each gallon of juice add one-half a gallon of water. Boil as long as any scum rises, then to every gallon add one and one-half pounds of sugar, more or less, according to the cherries and to the taste. Boil and skim as before. When cold add to each quart of juice a pint of brandy or whiskey.

CHERRY BRANDY OR RUM

Place five pounds of wild cherries in a wooden bucket, and add one-half a gallon of maple syrup. Let ferment for three days, then strain through cheese-cloth, put in a five-gallon jug, and add four gallons of California brandy. The older it gets the better and stronger it will be. The same for cherry rum, only use Medford rum instead of brandy.

LOUIS'
SALADS and CHAFING DISHES

By LOUIS MUCKENSTURM

This is really the work of three masters in the art, two of whom are head chefs at the principal clubs of Boston and the third holding a responsible position in a leading Bohemian resort. The receipts are new and prepared purposely for this book. The quantities given in each receipt are for a small given number of people, a feature not to be found in any other work of a similar nature. Printed in two colors on buff paper. Oblong. Bound in cartridge-paper. Price, 50 cents

Full cloth, side and back stamped in inks.

LOUIS'
MIXED DRINKS

WITH HINTS FOR THE CARE AND SERVING OF WINES

By LOUIS MUCKENSTURM

In this timely and suggestive volume, the work of the above epicures, there is not only a list of how to make and serve mixed drinks, but there is an important contribution on the care and serving of wines which will be of service in the private family, as well as to the restaurateur. Uniform with above, oblong.

Bound in cartridge-paper.

Price, 50 cents

Full cloth, side and back stamped in inks.
